

YUSUKE YAMAGUCHI

Toulouse School of Economics, 1 Esplanade de l'Université, 31080 Toulouse Cedex 06, France

Email: yusuke.yamaguchi@tse-fr.eu and yusuke.yamaguchi36@gmail.com

Phone: +33(0)7 66 60 24 10

Website: <https://sites.google.com/view/yusukeyamaguchi>

Placement Officers	Ulrich Hege Placement Officer ulrich.hege@tse-fr.eu +(33) 5 61 12 86 01	Ana Gazmuri Placement Coordinator ana.gazmuri@tse-fr.eu +33 (0)5 67 73 27 82	Louise Strachan Placement Administrator louise.strachan@tse-fr.eu +33 (0)5 61 12 87 65
Education	Toulouse School of Economics, France Ph.D. in Economics, 2020–2025 (expected) Hitotsubashi University, Japan M.A. in Economics, 2017 B.A. in Economics, 2015
Visit	Osaka School of International Public Policy, Osaka University, Japan Visiting Researcher (Host: Takuro Yamashita), Jul–Dec 2024
Fields	Microeconomic theory, Game theory, Contract theory
Job Market Paper	Bilateral Bargaining with a Biased Intermediary Bilateral bargaining is often mediated by an intermediary. In many cases, an intermediary shares some interest with one of the two parties in the negotiation and cannot commit to and enforce his decision. This paper studies the implication of having such a biased intermediary without commitment and enforcement power on bargaining outcome. I consider a bilateral trade model à la Myerson and Satterthwaite (1983) with binary valuations in which the intermediary offers a price to the traders. I focus on the set of communication equilibria of the game, which characterizes what the players can achieve if they are allowed to make any preplay and intraplay communication. I show that biased mediation makes it harder to achieve ex post efficiency. I also characterize the second-best equilibrium and show that the expected social surplus is weakly decreasing in the degree of the intermediary's bias. The comparison with the seller-offer bargaining game shows that if the degree of bias is small enough, even a biased intermediary is useful in the second-best case.
Work in Progress	Moral Hazard with Dual Risk Averse Agent Moral Hazard, Data Sharing, and Optimal Insurance Seller-Optimal Learning of Soft and Hard Information in Lemons Market (joint with Takuro Yamashita)
Fellowships & Awards	TSE Job Market Fellowship, 2024–2025 Doctoral Contract, Université Toulouse Capitole, 2021–2024 Graduate Scholarship for Degree Seeking Students, JASSO, 2019–2022

Teaching Experience	Toulouse School of Economics
	Game Theory (graduate), teaching assistant, 2022 and 2023 Theory of Incentive (graduate), teaching assistant, 2022 and 2023 Industrial Organization (undergraduate), teaching assistant, 2023 and 2024
	Hitotsubashi University
	Advanced Microeconomics (graduate), teaching assistant, 2017, 2018, and 2019 Intermediate Microeconomics (graduate), teaching assistant, 2017 and 2018
Research Experience	Research Assistant to Professor Takuro Yamashita, TSE, 2020–2021 Research Assistant to Professor Daisuke Hirata, Hitotsubashi U, Nov 2020 and Mar 2022
Presentations	2024: Fall Meeting of the Japanese Economic Association (Fukuoka U), Economic Theory Workshop (Hitotsubashi U, scheduled), Seminar (The U of Tokyo, scheduled) 2022: Communication and Persuasion Workshop (virtual), Asian Meeting of the Econometric Society in China (virtual), Australasia Meeting of the Econometric Society (virtual), Conference on Mechanism and Institution Design (virtual), Asian Meeting of the Econometric Society in East and South-East Asia (Keio U/virtual) 2019: Game Theory Workshop (Kyoto U) 2017: Economic Theory Workshop (Hitotsubashi U)
Languages	Japanese (native), English (fluent)
Personal Information	Married with one child Citizenship: Japan
References	David Martimort (main advisor) Professor of Economics Toulouse School of Economics david.martimort@tse-fr.eu	Johannes Hörner Professor of Economics Toulouse School of Economics johannes.horner@tse-fr.eu
	Takuro Yamashita Professor of Economics Osaka School of International Public Policy, Osaka University yamashita.takuro.osipp@osaka-u.ac.jp	